

MEET THE NEXT GENERATION OF SKINCARE PRODUCTS

Nion Beauty is revolutionizing skincare, combining cutting-edge advances in materials science with leading dermatological research to produce a range of beauty products that are years ahead of the competition.

Harnessing the power of negative ions – clever little molecules that naturally occur in abundance anywhere there's lots of moving water – Nion have created skincare devices that don't just purify the skin, increase blood flow, and promote healing, they actually have the power to make you feel good as well.

SO HOW DOES IT WORK?

Negative ions are super charged oxygen atoms with an extra electron. They have known mood enhancing properties, have been used to treat depression, and can reduce inflammation and irritation caused by pollutants in the air.

By combining the naturally occurring negative ions in Tourmaline with Body Safe Silicone, Nion has created a product that generates these valuable little particles in high quantities. This new line of skin cleansing products uses the natural power of negative ions to neutralize environmental toxins on the skin, increasing blood circulation as it does to give you a radiant, glowing complexion. But the innovations don't stop there!

Kinetic Cleansing vs. Friction Cleansing

Those of you who are familiar with cleansing brushes will know they rely on a side-to-side motion to remove dirt and impurities from your skin. However soft the bristles, the friction generated by these devices can easily damage your skin, robbing it of the essential oils that protect against pollutants, dryness, and infection.

Nion's clever negative ion technology (S-ion Technology) is simply far too advanced for antiquated friction cleansing. So, the company went one step further, developing an entirely new cleansing action.

The devices that generate healing negative ions look much like a traditional facial cleansing brush, with one exception. They utilize Kinetic Skin Cleansing – a deep vibration – to remove dirt, pollutants, and impurities, keeping the skin's natural defenses intact. The result? Healthier skin that retains its natural moisture and elasticity.

Nion Beauty

Featuring a full range of devices, not to mention designs to suit every budget, Nion is on a mission to give people worldwide the confidence to glow.

Visit www.nionbeauty.com today and discover the secret to gorgeous, clear, and youthful skin.